(You and T1/HCI may hereinafter be referred to individually as “Party” or collectively as the “Parties”).

For your benefit and protection, Tier1FX strongly urges you to read the Agreement in its entirety, as well as any other information available to you through our website or further documentation, prior to opening an account with us, and to seek clarification of any point that you do not understand. You may contact us at support@tier1fx.com or by phone at +356 2327 3000 and you may seek independent professional advice if necessary.

Tier1FX represents the branded offering of the online brokerage division of Hogg Capital Investments Limited which is a fully licensed Class II Investment Firm (registration number C 18954) authorized under the Investment Services Act, regulated in Malta by the Malta Financial Services Authority (MFSA) and located at Nu Bis Centre, Mosta Road, Lija LJA9012, Malta. Our authorization may be viewed here: <https://www.mfsa.mt/financial-services-register>. The MFSA is located at Triq I-Imdina, Zone 1, Central Business District, Birkirkara, CBD 1010, Malta and its website is www.mfsa.com.mt. Tier1FX website is www.tier1fx.com.

Throughout the Agreement, Tier1FX and Hogg Capital Investments Ltd may be referred to as “T1”, “HCI”, “us” or “we” and the term “you”, “your” or “Client” refers to you as our client or to any individual or entity in whose name or for whose benefit this account (the “Account”) is opened and for whose benefit the account is operated. This Agreement applies to and encompasses any and all accounts opened in your name and establishes the terms and conditions under which all of your Accounts are opened and operated and sets forth your rights and obligations and those of T1/HCI. Please note that T1/HCI takes the laws of Malta as a basis for its relationship with you prior to the conclusion of a distance contract, in terms of the Distance Selling (Retail Financial Services) Regulations (Legal Notice 36 of 2005, as amended).

By signing this Agreement, you enter into a legally binding contract with us and you acknowledge that you have read, understood and accepted the terms of the Agreement.

The Standard License Conditions (SLCs) under which Hogg Capital Investments Ltd operates permit us to undertake the following activities: receive and transmit Client orders on behalf of other persons and/or retail clients, professional clients and eligible counterparties (the “Transactions”) in relation to the following instruments (“Contracts”):

1. Derivative contracts other than options, futures, swaps, forward rate agreements relating to securities, currencies, interest rates or yields, or other derivative instruments, financial indices or financial measures which may be settled physically or in cash; or
2. Rights under a contract for differences (“CFD”) or under any other Contract the intended purpose of which is either to earn a profit or avoid a loss by reference to fluctuations in the value or price for property of any description or in an index or other factor designated for that purpose in the contract; or
3. Foreign exchange acquired or held for investment purposes (collectively the “Instruments”).

Please note that Hogg Capital Investments Ltd contributes to and participates in the Investor Compensation Scheme established under the Investor Compensation Scheme Regulations (Legal Notice 368 of 2003, as amended). The Investor Compensation Scheme provides for the payment of compensation, up to a certain limit, in respect of claims arising out of a license holder's inability to: (a) repay money owed to or belonging to investors and held on their behalf in connection with licensed business; or (b) return to investors any instruments belonging to them and held, administered or managed on their behalf in connection with licensed business or, where this is not possible, their monetary equivalent or value. The process leading to a possible claim for compensation payable by the Investor Compensation Scheme is triggered by a determination which the MFSA will make to the Investor Compensation Scheme in accordance with the terms stipulated in the Investor Compensation Scheme Regulations. If the Client qualifies as an “investor” as defined in the Investor Compensation Scheme Regulations, the Client may make a claim against the Investor Compensation Scheme subject to the terms and conditions provided for in the Regulations, in respect of all their investments, taken in aggregate, with the license holder concerned. It should be noted that certain categories of professional and institutional investors are excluded from claiming under the Investor Compensation Scheme. Further information on the Investor Compensation Scheme is made available on the following website: <http://www.compensationschemes.org.mt/>. In connection with this, please note that per MFSA and MiFID requirements, your funds are held in a segregated account, are not carried on HCI's balance sheet or otherwise comingled with HCI's own capital.

ANNEX I. Tier1FX Risk Disclosure

For Spot OTC Foreign Exchange, Spot OTC Precious Metals, and Contracts for Difference (CFD) Trading.

You are required to read and acknowledge that you have read and understood this Risk Disclosure Statement. By signing the Agreement, you acknowledge, understand and agree to the following disclosures:

The T1 Risk Disclosure Statement is a pertinent part of the Client Agreement and is hereby incorporated into the Agreement by reference.

MANY FOREIGN EXCHANGE DEALERS AND/OR BROKERS ARE COMPENSATED BY TAKING THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE BID/ASK SPREAD IN THE PRICE PUBLISHED TO THEIR CLIENTS. T1 WILL BE COMPENSATED BY CHARGING A COMMISSION AND A MARK UP OF THE RAW SPREAD WE RECEIVE FROM OUR LIQUIDITY PROVIDERS. T1 MAY PARTICIPATE IN MARKUPS AND COMMISSIONS REQUESTED BY INTRODUCING BROKERS. THE FOREIGN CURRENCY TRADING YOU ARE ENTERING INTO IS OVER-THE-COUNTER AND IS NOT CONDUCTED ON AN EXCHANGE.

Trading in margined Foreign Exchange and/or Precious Metals and CFDs involves a significant degree of risk including the risk of losing all or more than all Your Funds. Trading in these markets is not suitable for everyone and you should consider your decision in light of your personal financial circumstances, education, knowledge and appetite for risk. The Account is yours and you are responsible for monitoring your Account. We do not accept any liability for monitoring the risk you assume in your Account or for the activities of those third parties to whom you grant trading authority or otherwise grant access to your Account. This brief statement does not disclose all of the risks and other significant aspects of spot OTC Foreign Currency, Precious Metals and CFD trading. In line with the associated risks, you should only trade if you understand the nature of the trading in which you are about to engage and the full extent of your risk exposure and we urge you to analyze your trading objectives, trading capital, investment limitations and tax status.

You understand and agree that we provide order clerks for emergency trading access on a 24-hour basis when the market is open. You further understand and agree that access to email trading instructions is restricted to emergency instances when your platform is down and you have no other access to your account through a web enabled or mobile enabled platform. Finally, you also understand and agree that email trading instructions are restricted to offsetting (closing) open positions using market orders. Our clerks will not accept contingent orders via email and you may not open new positions via email.

1. No Guarantee of Profit and ability to withstand losses

There is no guarantee of profit from trading through T1. The value of Your Funds may decrease as well as increase. You acknowledge that no one associated with T1 or an Introducing Broker or representative with whom T1 has a relationship has guaranteed that you will profit from trading. You further confirm that you are able to sustain a total loss of Your Funds should such a loss occur. You understand that margined leveraged spot Foreign Exchange, Precious Metals and CFD trading is highly speculative and involves a significant risk of loss. You confirm you are willing to assume the legal, economic, and other risks associated with trading and that Your Funds are discretionary capital and if Your Funds are lost that the loss would not change your lifestyle. Trading may not be suitable for retirement funds. You are advised to closely manage your Account and to use prudent money management.

2. Effects of Leverage

Leverage can lead to quick losses as well as profits. You agree that a high leverage (a small amount of capital to control a larger amount) can lead to large losses when the market moves against your positions. T1 permits leverage based on account equity size, but it may alter leverage limits for clients classified as Professional in its sole discretion. Maximum leverage for T1 clients' accounts is subject to Client Categorization and prevailing European regulatory limits and as may be transposed within Malta's financial services regulatory framework, and which may be altered from time to time. . Leverage limits, margin requirements and temporary leverage limitations are posted on T1's website www.tier1fx.com.

3. Over the Counter Liquidity Risk

You acknowledge that you may experience decreased liquidity (a "Thin" market) as a result of external events over which T1 has no control. In Thin markets the bid/ask widens and volatility may increase dramatically (a "Fast" market). Fast markets do not trade in an orderly progression and gaps in bids and offers are to be expected and there may be periods when no bids or offers are available. Our prices will always reflect the liquidity available to us. Exchange traded Contracts are also subject to Fast markets and Thin liquidity and price gaps should be anticipated.

4. Liquidation Risk and Inadequate Margin

If your Account is under-margined, your open positions may be liquidated in whole or in part. We reserve the right, but are not obligated, to liquidate your Account should your margin not be sufficient to cover the potential risk of loss. Required margin levels are indicated on T1's trading platforms and you agree that you alone are responsible for monitoring your margin level. If your Account value goes below the Liquidation Level (see our website for the Liquidation Level associated with your particular platform), T1 reserves the right to automatically liquidate all or some of your open positions and you will be responsible for and liable for all resulting losses as a result of such liquidation. We may change the liquidation level in our sole discretion and in accordance with our risk management policies and procedures.

5. Price Risks

T1 expects that the executable prices we stream to you will be in line with the general Inter-bank Market but we do not represent, warrant or covenant, explicitly or implicitly, that this will always be the case.

6. Rollover Risks & Swap Rates Risks

T1 determines its roll and swap rates independently of prices that may be published elsewhere and short-term interest rates can create large spreads in two currency credit/debit differentials. By signing our Risk Disclosure Statement, you agree that at the close of business on days when the market is open (at or about 21:00 GMT) your positions will be automatically rolled to the next available spot settlement day with a net debit or credit to your Account based on T1's swap (interest) rates. For illustration purposes, if, in an open currency pair, you are long the currency whose spot interest rate is higher than the short counter currency, a net credit is added to your Account value. Conversely, If you are short a currency whose spot interest rate is higher than the counter currency in the pair your Account will reflect a net debit at the end of the day. Positions that must be rolled from Spot Settlement date Friday to Monday will reflect debits/credits for three (3) business days. This will be reflected on your account at 21:00h GMT on Wednesday since the standard settlement date for spot Forex transactions is "T+2" or 2 business days from the date of the actual trade. Positions rolled from Monday to Tuesday and Tuesday to Wednesday, will reflect debit/ credits for only one (1) business day. Rollovers include holidays. If Tuesday is a holiday, the rollover from Monday will be two business days (i.e. from Monday to Wednesday). Many factors can affect the spread in interest rate differentials and you acknowledge this risk. T1 will publish its rollover rates for the respective spot instruments it offers on its Website or on the trading platforms. T1 reserves the right in its sole discretion to change and/or correct these rates.

7. Contingent Order Execution Risk

There is no guarantee that T1 will be able to execute your contingent order at the requested price and you acknowledge and accept this risk. Although some contingent orders may be executed at less favorable prices, you are responsible and liable for these trades and T1 is not liable for any failure to execute the trade at your requested price.

8. Technology and Online Trading Risks

You accept the risk associated with trading online through the trading interfaces (platforms) T1 makes available to you. T1 does not guarantee that you will be able to successfully execute orders, manage positions or execute other critical tasks over the Internet via our technology or that of third parties upon whom we rely. Although T1 has taken great care in developing its technology and in choosing its service providers, without limitation we do not guarantee that our technology or that of our service providers will function without fail or without error and we do not accept any responsibility for such failure or errors regardless of the loss or damage you may experience as a result of such failure or error.

9. Negative Balance Protection

The purpose of the Negative Balance Protection is to ensure that, as a Retail Client in terms of MiFID, your maximum losses from trading CFDs, including all related costs, will not exceed the sum of your total equity which you will have committed and/or designated to your CFD trading account(s).

A trading account may come into “negative balance”, or in other words, the total losses of the account may exceed the account’s balance, in highly-volatile markets, where extreme market conditions may cause large and sudden price movements and therefore large and sudden losses may occur.

As a Retail Client however, Tier1FX shall not seek compensation from you should your account incur a negative balance but would instead credit your account in the amount of the negative balance incurred, so that its actual equity is re-balanced to zero. This will not however relieve Clients from the responsibility to continuously monitor their accounts and to ensure that they are well-margined at all times and Tier1FX shall be entitled to take the necessary measures to prevent your account from going negative, especially in the event that it is overexposed.

Non-Retail Clients (Eligible Counterparties, Per Se Professional and Elective Professional Clients) are not represented by this Protection and remain fully and wholly responsible for immediately repaying T1 the amount of negative equity as may be realized on their respective accounts. Our trading platforms are generally calibrated to liquidate open positions before your Account goes into a negative equity position (i.e. to avoid losses exceeding the net value of Your Funds). In exceptional circumstances however a large and sudden price movement may prevent us from closing out your market position as required and hence to protect against your account registering a negative equity balance. Clients holding multiple accounts will moreover be responsible for covering negative equity positions in individual accounts from equity balances held in other accounts. In such circumstances alone, T1 will be duly authorized to institute these transfers when and wherever necessary to cover any such shortfalls and in so doing T1 will not be held liable for any consequent changes to the Clients’ prevailing leverage limits as they may or may not apply to any of their separate accounts, whether in credit or not.

10. Security Code and Online Security Risks

You are solely responsible for maintaining the secrecy and protection of your Security Access Codes and if your Account is compromised as a result of your failure to do so, you are solely liable for any and all damage, loss, expense or cost caused to T1, any third parties and to yourself. This risk shall apply when T1 discloses your Security Access Codes to a third party at your specific written direction. Do not publish your Security Access Codes to anyone including T1 employees. If you forget or lose your Security Access Codes, or it is disclosed to any unauthorized person or you suspect your Account has been compromised you must change the Security Access Code immediately and notify T1’s compliance department. If you are unable to change the Security Access Code yourself notify T1’s compliance department immediately. Also, if T1 suspects your Account has been compromised we will disable your Account and advise you. We will re-enable your Account only after we are satisfied that your Account is secured. We will email a new Security Access Code to you at your email address in our records.

11. Electronic Communication Facility Failure Risk

You assume the risk that electronic communications may fail and that you will not be able to contact or make contact with T1 as a result. Notwithstanding communication malfunctions, failures, an inflow of email orders or any other malfunction or negligence, you acknowledge and agree to hold harmless T1 for any loss or lost trading opportunity resulting from such communication failures or compromises. T1 will accept emergency market orders via email during business hours to , but there is no guarantee that your order will be transmitted for execution in a timely fashion during periods of communication malfunctions. Order clerks will not accept orders to open new positions.

12. Erroneous Price Print and Off Market Risk

T1 reserves the right to correct any trades executed at off market prices regardless of whether the price is in your favor or is against you. In such cases, we will notify you of the change in price.

13. Market Information

T1 will publish general market information and recommendations from time to time (“Market Information”). Market Information provided by T1 or its representatives is for informational and educational purposes only and does not constitute investment advice or an offer to buy or sell any Contract or enter into any Transaction. Any action you take in response to such Market Information is your independent action. We disclaim any fiduciary duty to you in this regard and we are not liable for any trading losses as a result of your actions.

14. Business Risk

If T1 should go out of business Your Funds may be at risk. You acknowledge that in the event of insolvency or T1’s sole decision to close its business you must only look to T1 for performance and return of Your Funds. In either event, T1 may liquidate your positions and remit Your Funds, at any time and for any reason, and you agree not hold T1 liable for any loss as a result of such liquidation.

15. Error Risk Responsibility

It is your responsibility to review all Transactions reported in your account, including but not limited to trades, corrections, debits, credits, conversions, buy/sell error and rollovers. Should you discover an error in your Account, you must report the error in writing to T1 within twenty-four (24) hours including the detailed specifics of the error including all trade identifiers. You may make a verbal report as well, but a written record will be necessary for confirmation.

16. Email Order Risk – Emergency Trade Closures

In emergency situations where the Client is unable to access the online trading platform, T1 may, at its sole discretion, accept instructions via email to close an open trade. This option is provided strictly as a last resort and is limited to closing existing positions only — requests for opening or modification of trades will not be accepted via email.

All such requests must be sent in accordance with Annex II, Section 10. Closing Trade on Behalf of the Client.

Client acknowledges and agrees that all prices quoted prior to execution are indicative only, and T1 reserves the right to execute the instruction at the prevailing market price(s) at the time the instruction is executed. The Client accepts that the execution price may differ from the price visible to the Client at the time Client's email instruction was sent due to market conditions, volatility, and/or transmission delays.

T1 assumes no responsibility for any orders that are incomplete, unclear, unverifiable, or not sent from the registered email address, as is clearly detailed within Annex II, Section 10 of this document. The Company may reject or delay execution of any instruction that does not meet the required criteria or where authenticity of the instruction cannot be confirmed.

We instruct our order clerks to “write down what you hear and read back what you wrote. If the two do not match, start over.” All orders may be taken on a recorded line without an electronic “beep” or other notification and all such recordings may be used for any purpose in any venue in any jurisdiction. Prices being published on our platforms may differ from the indicative prices quoted to you. T1 may charge a premium for telephone trades that will be reported on your trading statement. T1 is not responsible for or liable if the recordings of the telephone calls are erased or never recorded because of error, omission or for any other reason. You are responsible for protecting the confidentiality of your Account information and we are not liable if your Account is accessed by an unauthorized individual. T1 reserves the right to only accept market orders.

17. T1's Limited Liability.

You agree and acknowledge that T1's liability is limited pursuant to the terms of the Agreement and may be further limited under applicable laws.

You understand and agree that taxes and, or costs may exist that are not imposed by or paid through T1.

The levels and bases of taxation depend on your private circumstances and we recommend that you consult a professional tax or other adviser in regard to these matters as we do not give tax or legal advice.

ANNEX II. Trading Rules and Regulations

These Trading Rules and Regulations, along with any and all amendments, Annexes, Risk Disclosures and all other documents used in conjunction with opening your Account are incorporated by reference and form one Agreement. These Trading Rules and Regulations may be changed at any time in our sole discretion and any such changes will have immediate effect, with or without notice to you, and any such changes will be posted on our website. You agree to adhere to our Trading Rules and Regulations as from time to time may be amended.

1. Our Trading Hours

T1's normal trading business hours are from approximately 21:00 GMT Sunday during the Summer (22:00 GMT Winter time) to approximately 21:00 pm GMT on Friday during the Summer (22:00 GMT Winter time) or such other times as may be posted on our Website from time to time. Our regularly scheduled trading hours for CFD products depend on the particular CFD product and the underlying exchange rate and our Services for such CFD products. You agree to make yourself familiar with the hours such markets trade, such as Eurex. These hours are typically from 02:00 GMT on Monday through 05:00 GMT Friday. Non-business days, such as holidays, will be posted on our website and you are responsible for keeping yourself up to date on our hours of operation. We will, on a best efforts basis, conduct all maintenance during non-trading hours. However, we retain the right to conduct such maintenance when necessary, with or without notice.

2. Live Telephone and Chat Support

T1 will be offering its clients dedicated live support services to fulfill clients' needs. You may contact the Client Service Desk during Trading Hours in the following ways:

Email: support@tier1fx.com

Telephone: +356 2327 3000

Chat: over the Chat Window available on our Website

3. Order Types

T1, through its various platforms, offers many order types depending upon the platform. These order types include, but are not limited to, market, buy/sell stop, buy/sell limit (take profit on MT4), MIT, place bid/offer. You acknowledge and agree that you will become familiar with the various order types on the platform of your choice, how to use the order types you chose to use and understand how the order type operates and how it will affect your trading methodology. The three most common types of orders are listed below:

Market Order: Market orders are orders to buy or sell immediately at the price where the market is then trading or at the next available price. A market order will be executed, but not necessarily at the stop price. Volume, liquidity and volatility may affect the price at which the order is executed.

Stop Order: Stop orders are orders to buy or sell when the market reaches a specific price. When the stop price is reached the order becomes a market order. Stop orders can be used to enter and exit the market. A buy stop is entered above the market price and a sell stop is entered below the market price. Stops are traditionally used to protect a profit or manage a loss down to a specific level.

Limit Order: Limit orders (sometimes referred to as "or better" orders) are orders to buy or sell at a specific price or at a better price than the market price at the time the order is entered. Limit orders can be used to enter or exit the market. A buy limit is placed below the market price and a sell limit is placed above the market price.

4. Hedging

You will be able to hedge on both the MT4 and the Jforex platform. Hedging permits you to be long and short in the same currency pair in order to lock in profits and manage losses pending your further determinations. Your margin may be lowered as a result of a hedge and T1 reserves the right to change the hedge margin level at its sole discretion. Depending upon your positions, your equity may still decrease as a result of the rollover swap rate applied to the positions. You agree to discuss the applicability of hedging with a T1 representative based on the trading interface (platform) you select.

5. Trade Size

The minimum trade size for foreign exchange contracts will be 0.01 Lot (a “micro lot”). A micro lot equates to 1,000 units of the base currency for FX, 1 troy oz for gold, 50 oz for silver and 10 barrels for oil. The maximum trade size depends on the currency pair and your Account classification. For Retail accounts our standard default maximum trade size per order for is 50 standard lots on MT4 for FX, Gold and Silver and 20 lots for Oil products. The minimum trade size in CFDs is 1 CFD. The maximum trade size is 100 CFDs. You acknowledge and agree that it is your responsibility to understand the maximum trade size at the time you place a trade. T1 reserves the right to change its permitted order size without notice and we are not liable for any losses that occur as a result of a change in permitted order size.

6. Margin

It is your absolute responsibility to monitor your open positions and your required margin at all times. You must monitor your platform for available margin, and when your open positions reach the margin critical level (you are approaching insufficient margin given your open positions), you should either deposit additional funds into your Account (funds actually received and applied to your Account) before the equity level reaches our liquidation level (see our website for specific platform Liquidation Level) or offset sufficient losing positions in order to reach full margin. You understand and agree to maintain sufficient trading capital (Your Funds) equal to or in excess of the margin required to hold your positions. We always recommend to allow for two or more standard deviation market moves in calculating how many positions to carry in your Account and how large those positions should be. You are advised that markets are susceptible to rapid price fluctuations and you should not over commit your available capital.

7. Open Position Liquidations

Unless your Account is fully margined at all times, T1 will automatically liquidate some or all of the positions when your available margin reaches our Liquidation Level. The Liquidation Level for the various platforms T1 offers is set forth on our website and you agree to make yourself aware of the Liquidation Level associated with the trading platform you are using and how the Liquidation Level will affect your trading. Since the leveraged, margined OTC spot foreign exchange market, the precious metal market, and the CFD market are all subject to extreme swings in volatility T1 reserves the right (but is not obligated) to automatically liquidate all or some of your open positions and you will be liable for all resulting losses. We further reserve the right to change the Liquidation Level posted on our website in our sole discretion and the new Liquidation Level will be effective immediately and applicable to all open positions upon publication. We will make a reasonable effort to give you prior notice of our intention to change the Liquidation Level, but reserve the right to change it without prior notice, and duly notifying you of this change in the process. The automatic liquidation function is designed to offset the positions in declining order beginning with largest losing position down to smallest loser until Your Funds are sufficient to margin the remaining open positions. Clients under a Managed Program may set their own stop loss limit (EPM) lower than the proscribed Liquidation Level for your platform by making adjustments through Client Portal.

8. Daily Open Position Rollover

You agree that T1 is authorized to and will rollover all open positions in your Account to the next settlement spot date. The process of rolling over open positions is an automatic daily routine that takes place at or about 21:00 GMT (22:00 GMT winter time) regardless of the platform on which you are trading. The rates at which your positions are rolled are determined by T1 in our sole discretion. Debits or credits will be posted to your Account at a time after the normal close of the business day for T1. T1 reserves the right to change at its absolute and sole discretion, any rollover debits or credits at any time if T1, in our sole discretion, if we determine that the amount debited or credited was done so in error. Our Swap rates for all products traded are posted and periodically updated on our website.

9. Funding and Withdrawal

You can deposit funds into your Account via the payment methods posted on our website. Funds are not available for trading until they are clear and posted to your Account. Banking fees associated with deposits and withdrawals may be charged to your Account, in addition to administrative fees listed on our website.

Currencies accepted for deposit are posted on our website. Currencies not posted on our website will be converted into the currency of the bank account you deposited them to. Instructions for depositing and withdrawing funds will be emailed to you upon account approval. It is important to note that T1 will not accept funds from nor make payments to third parties. Our compliance department must approve any exception to this prohibition.

For further details, please refer to our website www.tier1fx.com

10. Closing Trade on Behalf of the Client

In exceptional circumstances where the Client is unable to access the online trading platform, the Company may, at its sole discretion, accept a written request from the Client to close an open position on their behalf. This service is provided strictly as a contingency measure and is limited to the closure of existing trades only. The Company will not accept instructions to open or modify trades via email.

To request the closure of a trade via email, the Client must send the request from their registered email address (see page 16, point 17. COMMUNICATIONS) to support@tier1fx.com. The request must be in English and must include the following details:

- Client's full name and trading account number
- The trade ticket number
- The size (volume) of the trade to be closed
- The open price of the trade
- An explicit instruction to close the trade and to do so at the prevailing market price(s)

The Client acknowledges and agrees that the order will be closed at the prevailing market price(s) available at the time the Company processes the instruction, which may differ from the price visible to the Client at the time the email instruction was sent.

The Company will bear no responsibility for any price differences arising from the execution of a client's instruction.

Upon execution, a confirmation email will be sent to the Client, noting the trade ticket number, closed volume, closed price and close time, and all such details of the closed trade will be also reflected in the Clients trading account and account statements.

The Company reserves the right to decline client instructions at its discretion, including but not limited to cases where the email does not contain all of the required information detailed above or where the Company cannot verify the authenticity of the request.

11. Trade Inquiries

In the event of a dispute or question about a trade it is critical that you contact T1's compliance department immediately with the full details of the issue. Send your inquiry to support@tier1fx.com. Although you may call to discuss a trade issue, all such inquiries must be submitted in writing so there is a written record of the details. Should you delay in submitting an inquiry to T1's support staff, T1 may determine that you waived your right to protest by waiting. We do not allow "free rides" on disputed trades.

12. System Manipulation. Arbitrage

It is expressly prohibited for you to directly or indirectly use any device, software, platform or other artifice to manipulate or attempt to manipulate the normal functioning of any electronic system, data feed, software, connection speed, platform or other interface, device or software of any type or kind made available to you by T1 in connection with trading on any trading platform made available by T1. Our prohibition extends to, but is not limited to, efforts to buy at the bid, sell at the offer, or otherwise trade on off market prices by taking any action, directly or indirectly, that interferes with, jeopardizes, compromises, slows down, accelerates, impedes or interrupts the normal operation of any T1 operational and/or dealing activity, system, platform or pricing function. Should we determine, in our sole judgment, that you have engaged in a prohibited activity we reserve the right, in our sole discretion, to close your Account, report your activity to international authorities and withhold any gains created as a result of the prohibited activity. Such prohibited activity shall also include "arbitrage".

ANNEX III. Transmission & Execution of Customer Orders

The Standard License Conditions for firms that qualify as Investment Service Providers and MiFID firms regarding best execution are set forth in the Investment Service Rules (SLCs 2.54-2.62 and 2.70-2.71) as augmented by ESMA guidelines for systems and controls in an automated trading environment for trading platforms. When transmitting orders, T1 is obliged to establish and implement effective arrangements in order to achieve the best possible result. T1 reviews its orders transmission for execution policies on an ongoing basis and in line with prevailing legislation and adjusts and amends its policies should it be called for. This brief overview of T1's order policies is a pertinent part of this Agreement, and through the Agreement you consent to our transmission and execution policies. Generally, your orders will be executed by the Service Provider outside a regulated market or Multilateral Trading Facility ("MTF") and directly with, for example, an OTC market maker and through this Agreement you consent having your orders executed outside a regulated market or MTF. In addition, T1 may enter into a prime broker agreement with other third-party liquidity providers. T1's core system selects the best bid and the best offer shown by its liquidity providers at that moment in time so you will receive the best bid or offer for your transaction based upon which liquidity provider's pricing is optimum for your order. Should you give us an order to execute a trade on a particular venue, and we accept that order, your instruction will prevail over the present principles of best execution. In this instance you would bear the risk that T1 could not achieve the best possible execution. You agree that T1 reserves the right to modify its best execution policy without notice and at our sole discretion. T1 will notify you of any material changes to our order transmission and execution arrangements or other related policies.

For further details please refer to our Best Execution Policy, published and periodically updated at www.tier1fx.com > Legal.

ANNEX IV Managing Conflicts of Interest

Hogg Capital Investments/Tier1FX maintains and operates effective organizational and administrative arrangements with a view to taking all reasonable steps designed to prevent conflicts of interest that can adversely affect the interests of our clients.

In this regard, we take all steps to identify conflicts of interest within the firm and any person directly or indirectly linked to us by control or between our client and another that arise in the course of business.

In compliance with the above, we refer you to our Conflicts of Interest Policy at <https://www.tier1fx.com/company/legal/>, which outlines the instances when conflicts of interest could arise and how such situations can be managed in the best effective manner in the interest of our clients. Where a conflict of interest cannot be avoided, this shall be duly disclosed to you before the undertaking of any business with you.

If you would like to discuss in further detail any aspects of our Conflicts of Interest Policy, please contact our Compliance Department at compliance@tier1fx.com.
